

VISIT

Philmont

Scout Ranch

GATEWAY TO ADVENTURE

Experience Philmont, from the steep mountain peaks to the low, cattle-grazing plains. At Philmont scouts spend two weeks backpacking around the world's largest youth camp, exploring the vast scenery as they travel about the ranch. As they travel, they have opportunities to rock climb, shoot rifles, throw tomahawks, and more.

RANCHES AND WRANGLERS

Philmont is still an active cattle ranch, so while exploring the wilderness scouts are bound to encounter the herds of roaming cattle. At camps, they'll be able to ride horses, learn to throw a lasso, and even be able have a burro follow them carrying their tents for the next leg of their journey.

EXPERIENCE NATURE

SEE THE WILDLIFE

There are countless species at Philmont, including rattlesnakes, chipmunks, elk, deer, porcupines, mountain lions, and bears! Visitors are sure to see plenty of critters on their trek.

CLIMB THE MOUNTAINS

Philmont is home to several peaks, including the scenic Tooth of Time and the towering Mt. Baldy, capping at 12,441 ft. Take a day, climb up, and have a snowball fight in July. There's nothing quite like it.
